BUILDING COMMISSIONING 101

DESCRIPTION

This presentation is for the members of the building design team. It is an introduction to the commissioning process and a guide to the design team responsibilities within the commissioning process. The presentation will describe each step in the commissioning process and explain how the designer will fulfill their role during those steps. Ideally, the designer will come away with a better understanding of the commissioning process and how it is a benefit during the design phase of a project.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- When is commissioning required?
- An overview of the commissioning process
- The Design Team's role in the commissioning process
- A general understanding of functional testing
